Steve,

Thank you so much for all your help as we entered the process of buying our first home. We initially attended one of the free seminars offered by The Mortgage Company and were impressed by the personable nature of you and everyone at the company. We greatly appreciated the way you took time to address our individual concerns and questions as we navigated our way through all of the information and options presented to us as first-time home buyers. Our experience was great from beginning to end and it was extremely helpful (and comforting) to deal with someone with such a wealth of knowledge on the subject. Thank you for the time and attention you gave us - we'd be happy to recommend any of our friends to The Mortgage Company!

Sincerely,

Jeremy Kiechel
